ABOUT

Established in 2007, studio Jens Praet is a design studio based in San Gimignano, a small beautiful medieval town near Siena in Italy, run by Belgian designer Jens Praet. Jens studied Industrial Design in Firenze and attended the Master classes at the renowned Design Academy in Eindhoven under Droog Design's co-founder Gijs Bakker.

Studio Jens Praet works from a conceptual angle on topics of contemporary culture, out of own initiative and on assignment. The studio has an intensive approach towards traditional handcrafting in combination with avant-garde techniques. Jens has a strong passion for everyday objects, honest materials, finding inspiration in unexpected details and daily issues which often become the starting point in developing a new concept.

Studio Jens Praet's work has been exhibited at important international venues and has been featured in many major design publications and newspaper world-wide. We are proud to announce the acquisition in February 2012 of our 'Shredded Side Table' by the Carnegie Museum of Art from Industry Gallery DC & LA.
